

ANKORS to hold 72-hour art slam fundraiser

Revelstoke Review Staff

The AIDS Network Kootenay Outreach and Support Society (ANKORS) will host a 72-hour virtual art slam to raise awareness and funds to support people living with HIV/AIDS in the Kootenay/Boundary region, including Revelstoke.

“This is an opportunity to come together as a community in celebration of the arts,” said a news release from ANKORS. “In the context of this global pandemic, it is crucial to recognize the importance of continuing efforts to confront longstanding epidemics, such as that of HIV/AIDS.”

The art slam will run from Sept. 8-10. The ANKORS Foundation Fund aims to support specific needs of people living with HIV/AIDS in the Kootenay/Boundary region, such as providing nutritional enhancement or supporting access to medical care.

Art slam is open to all sorts of artistic creators, including poets, muralists, chefs, painters, photographers, musicians and many more.

Artists will be given a prompt and have 72 hours to create their piece of art. Photos and videos of the virtual slam will be shared online through ANKORS’ social media.

At the end of the slam, community members will vote for their favourite piece of art and the winner will be awarded a prize. An online auction will run for two weeks following the art slam, Sept. 11-24, as community members will have the opportunity to bid for artwork that was created during the slam.

Part of the proceeds from the auction will go to the artists, and the rest will go to the foundation.

For more information about the art slam, silent auction email Amelia at ankorsartslam@gmail.com or call 250-505-5506. You can also check the Facebook event for more details facebook.com/events/244206566654149/.
